Finding our present quarters entirely too small for our business, we will move to the room recently used by the Bowling Alley, Court House Square, on and after Tuesday, May 1st. It is our aim to have the most complete Shoe Store in the City. We have added greatly to our present line, and feel justified in saying that any and all who will inspect our different lines will bear us out in our assertions.

Beautiful Scenery.

The scenery up Stoner never was more beautiful than it is just now, and a ten mile trip on the electric launch "Kentucky" makes a most delightful bit of recreation. Many middle aged married people are making the trip, and a number of family parties have found the launch quite a pleasure. The launch leaves the landing every hour, and will take fishermen up Stoner and then return for them. Several parties of young folks have been up Stoner this week.

Owing to the many exaggerated wit: reports and rumors regarding the Lot No. 1 on Convent Heights in reports and rumors regarding the epidemic in Paris and vicinity, I feel it my duty in my official capacity to make a true statement as to its status. CHAPTER XVI.—CONTINUED.

All along the line from right to left there ran the cross-country road connecting the broader highway, from Malate to San Rafael and Paranaque on the west, and from Paco by way of Singalon to Pasay. In front of the right wing all was swamp, morass or rice fields. In front of the left wing all was close, dense bamboo and jungle, save where the broad, straight roadway led on past Block House 13, or the narrower cart track stretched southward, overarched in places by spreading branches. and commanded at its narrowest path by the swarm of dusky fighters in Block House 14. The poor fellow's eyes opened wearily as he sipped the stimulant pressed upon him by eager, sympathetic hands, and glanced slowly about as though in search of some familiar face: and so they fell on those of Hilly Gray. who, forgetful for the moment of his own hurt, threw himself by the stranger's side and seized his clammy hand. A half smile flitted over the pale face. his blue shirt and slowly drew forth a packet, stained and dripping with the blood that welled slowly from a shothole in the broad white breast. "Give to - Gen. Drayton- Promise," he gasped. and pushed it painfully toward Billy Gray. Then the brave eyes closed, the weary head fell back; and Gray, staring as though in stupefaction into the placid face, found himself drooping, too, growing dizzy and faint and recling, but still holding on to his trust.

"Don't some of you know him?" asked the surgeon. "He's past helping now, poor lad. Here, you drink this, Billy;" and he placed a little silver cup at Gray's pallid lips.

"He came a-runnin' from over at Block House 12 with a note from division headquarters just as we went in." said a veteran sergeant, drawing the back of a powder-stained hand across his dripping forehead, then respectfully stepping back as a young officer hent down and glanced at Gray.

He was beginning to be ashamed now in this presence to think how that other-how Margaret Garrison might be impressed, forgetting that, to the army girl who has lived long years on the frontier, tales of heroism are the rule, not the exception. He wondered how long it could be before she would come to him to bring him comfort. Surely by this time she knew that he had been seriously, painthe other hand groped at the breast of fully wounded. He did not know, however, that at the very first sound of battle Frost had hundled the sisters aboard his launch and steamed away to the transports. Yet, what comfort could her visit bring to him with that stern censor lying there, seeing and hearing all? Billy Gray that Monday night could almost have wished that Armstrong's slumber might be eternal. never dreaming that before a second Monday should come he would thank heaven with grateful heart for Armstrong's presence, vigilance and inter-

In three days the colonel was able to sit up. Within the week he was permitted to take air and exercise in the spacious court of the old college, his sword arm in its sling. But Gray and the young officer of volunteers were too seriously wounded to leave their pillows. The -teenth had occupied a new line far south of the ald one; but, at one time, several of Billy's brother officers had dropped in to see him and tell him regimental news; and one of them, the young West Pointer who had broken down at sight of the dying face that stirring Sunday morning, told him of Latrobe's soldier funeral and of Gen. Drayton's presence and specchless grief; and Billy's hand groped beneath the pillow for that little blood-stained

Mrs. Garcison said she thought if Mr. Gray knew that it was-but perhaps Dr. Frank didn't know it was she who had nursed Mr. Gray so assidnously at Honolulu. Dr. Frank did know that and more: but he did not say so; neither did he yield. There were tears in her eyes as she sprang into her carriage again; but they were tears of anger and defeat. She dashed them away the very next instant and smiled joy and congratulation, even adulation, at sight of the tall stalwart officer, his arm in a sling, who stood the center of a staring group as her carriage flashed by. #### AN INFANT PRODIGY.

Lawrence Attracted the Attention of Garrick, Foote, Burke and Sheridan.

Raphael, with genius at his back, did not come to maturity so quickly, nor did Rubens, triumphant at Antwerp, hold popular applause so long; for Lawrence kept his admiring pubic to the last, and was something of wonder both as man and boy. His whole career was brilliant, yet not through intrinsic force; his ar was uccessful without being great; he was honored and praised down to his grave, and yet he possessed no genius. There are men who achieve popular success without genins. Lawrence was one of

When young Lawrence was three years old his father made a change of base and moved into the Black Bear inn. It was here that the boy was placed upon a table to recite Shakespeare for the guests. Here also he developed a wonderful gift of making portraits in pastel of the passing public. A guest could have a portrait painted while he waited, and the peed of the artist was not less wonderful than his age. The duchess of Devonshire and Lord and Lady Kenyon were among his early sitters, and the record is preserved that Lady Kenyon's likeness was drawn in profile because, as the child artist declared, "her face was not straight." In a short time Le had attracted the attention of Garrick. Foote, Wilkes, Burke, Sheridan and Johnson, and his tather began traveling with him about the neighboring country and exhibiting him as one of the wonders of the age.-Century.

PRISON BABIES.

The Little Newcomers Always Citate a Flutter of Excitement in Their Gloomy Birthplaces.

Very few people outside official circles know what a large number of b..bies are born every year in the infirm little people always causing quite a fintter of attentiveness and electric ment among female warders and prisoners alike.

Of course, there is a vast difference in prisoners, and sometimes the person least attentive to the prison baby is the mother herself; but, on the other hand, the general body of the women prisoners make the most pathetic efforts, by means of all manner of trifling scraps and olds and ends, to labricate articles of wear and ornament for the out-of-place stranger.

Onite three-fourths of the women volunteer to tend it, and it is often the case that the most refractory and difhealt of the prisoners soften and greatly alter by being allowed to do little things for it; indeed, it acts throughout like a veritable ray of sunshine among the whole of the poor prisoners, who generally manage to get themselves into great good humor by suggesting as volubly as the prison rules will permit fantastic names for the child. Within a certain period of their birth these children are taken away from the mother and are tended esewhere with the utmost care and humanity.-Cincinnati Enquirer.

Castle Campbell. There are few more picturesque spots in Scotland than Dollar Glen, and no more interesting ruin anywhere than the grim old castle of the Campbells, known in the olden time as Castle Gloom. Oace visited, the castle will never be forgotten. It is not only beautiful for situation, adding might to the majesty of the everlasting hills, but it abounds with weird traditions that give the added charm of romane. #### FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

Summary of Leading Ivents.

Washington, April 26. Senate-Almost the entire session was devot d to consideration of the right of Nathan B. Scott, of West Virginia, to retain his seat in the senate. The case went over without action.

House-The post office appropriation bill was passed, as was also a bill to increase the salary of the director of the census to $7,500 and the salaries of supervisors of census by two per cent, of the amount received by their enumerators. The final conference report on the Bawaiian government bill was presented, but not acted upon owing to the absence of a quo-

Washington, April 27 .- Senate-The senate voted upon the resolution declaring Nathan B. Scott to be entitled to his seat in the senate from West Virginia. The number of votes in the negative was only three. The Alas-I.:n and cotton claims bills took up the rest of the day.

House-All records were beaten by the passage of 91 private pension bills. Among them was one to pension at he rate of $40 a month the widow of the late Col. John M. Stotsenberg, of the 1st Nebraska, who was killed in the Philippines. The conference report on the Hawaiian government was adopted and now goes to the presi-Washington, April 28. Senate Mr. Pettigrew, of South Dakota, offered a resolution expressing sympathy for the Boers. Without debate it was referred to the committee on fureign relations by a vote of 31 to 11. As the vote disclosed the absence of a quorum, an effort was made to seeure one, but it was unsuccessful, and the senate adjourned.

House-Bills to recognize the services of Lieut. Newcomb and the officers and men of the revenue cutter Hudson, which rescued the torpedo boat Winslow at Cardenas, Cuba, by conferring gold and silver medals upon them, and to retire Capt. Hodgson, of the revenue cutter Hugh Mc-Culloch, for meritorious services, were passed. Francis R. Lassiter, who succeeds the late Sidney Epes as a representative from the Fourth Virginia district, was sworn in.

Washington, April 30.-Senate-A motion to take up the resolution expressing sympathy for the Boers was defeated by a vote of 29 to 20. The conference report on the joint resolution relating to the administration of civil affairs in Porto Rico and providing for the appointment of temporary officers on the island was agreed to. During the greater part of the session the Alaskan civil code bill was under consideration, but no progress was made.

House-The Lacey bill to enlarge the powers of the department of agriculture and to prohibit interstate commerce in game killed in violation of local laws was passed. The conference report on the joint resolution extending the tenure of military offiers in Porto Rico was agreed to.

Washington, May 1.- Senate-All proposed amendments to the Alaskan civil code bill were withdrawn and the bill passed. The senate then took up the army appropriation bill and disussed it until adjournment. It carries an apropriation of $114,951,590.

House-The Nicaraguan canal bill was taken up, and occupied the entire session, as well as a night session. A powerful opposition to the measure was developed.

Washington, May 2.-Sepate-Cousideration of the army appointation bill developed into a debate on the treatment of the volunteer soldiers sent to the Philippines that at times was very bitter. Just before adjournment a sharp coloquy occurred over the proposed consideration of the resulution to unseat Mr. Clark, of Moretana, which indicated that the unanimens recommendation of the committee on privileges and elections will be sharply contested.

House At the conclusion of the most stormy debate of the present session of congress, the house passed the Nicaragua canal bill by the overwhelming vote of 225 to 35. No other business was transacted.

Judge W. M. Purnell Killed.

The citizens of Paris and Bourbon ounty were shocked Wednesday evening to hear that Judge W. M. Purnell, who had been seen on the streets of Paris after five o'clock that afternoon in the full vigor of health, had been accidentally killed.

Judge Purnell and wife had driven to George Prather's, a short distance from Kansas City to visit relatives. town, to secure some plants, and in returning a bolt lost out of the shaft of their phaeton, letting the shaft drop to the ground. This frightened the horse which began to plunge and kick. Judge Purnell, in trying to stop the horse from running down a dangerous grade to the creek, turned the horse into a fence. The collision threw Judge Purnell and friends. wife out of the vehicle, the Judge's head striking the fence, crushing his leaves in a few days for a visit to friends An extended account of the mine dis-skull and breaking his neck, causing in Arkansas. instant death. Over Two Hundred Miners Were Killed Near Schofield, Utah.

The Work of Rescue Was Delayed by After Damp-Heartrending Seenes Around the Wouth of the Mine.

The company has two mines known as Nos. 1 and 4. The explosion ocsurred in No. 4. A special train was cut from Salt Lake bearing Superintendent Sharp, of the coal company. Superintendent Welhy, of the railroad company, and some doctors.

As fast as bodies are reached they are taken to the boarding houses and other company buildings, where they are dr ssed and prepared for the corover's inquest. These buildings are numerous, and in each are some tento threty-five bodies, which are laid in long rows. To those which have been identified are atached tags with name and address. These await the coming of relatives or friends.

MAY DAY STRIKES.

The Struggle on for an Eight-Hour Day in Philadelphia -Labor Troubles in Other Cires.

Philadelphia, May 2.- The struggle for an eight-hour work day, which has been under consideration by the labor unions of this city, began in earnest Tuesday, when, according to Secretary Joseph B. Allen, of the Allied Unilding Trades council, workmen representing every branch of the buildings trades went on strike to enforce by a concerted movement the demands of the unions. Nearly 3,000 men are reported to have quit work, and this number is but a small representation of the total membership of the Allied Building Trades council. which embraces about 95 per cent. of the men employed in the building trades. The fact that so few workmen were compelled to strike is considered by the unions as favorable to their cause.

The movement for a working day of eight hours and a general increase of wages, averaging about 25 per cent, began some months ago At a recent unceting, May 1 was decided upon as the day for presenting this demands.

Duluth, Minn., May 2. Organized abor in the trades went on a strike Tuesday for higher wages and shorter hours. Carpenters want 35 cents per hour, plumbers 50 cents and a saturday half holiday paid for; painters 40 cents, and other trades in proportion with a general eight hour day. At a meeting Monday night contractors decided to take no work if necessary all summer, but union leaders say they expect to win in a

British Aristocracy Blamed.

Many people attribute the recent reverses of the British to the degeneracy of the aris-tocracy. The life of luxury certainly does not produce vigor. Indegestible suppers, late hours, constant nerve strain and lack of exercise upset the stomach and weaken both physical and mental vitality. The blood that makes men heroes must come from active, healthy stomachs. Hos etter's Stomach Bitters purifies the blood and strengthens the stomach. It cures const pation, indigestion, dysp ps and bilinusness.

Mr. Jobson Goes Fishing enuncaenes en en en en en e

MRS. JOBSON," said Mr. Jobson, after he had finished reading the paper on Saturday evening, "what would you rather do or go a-fishin'?" Mrs. Jobson wasn't familiar with the phrase, and she had to pass.

"Yes, I am sane," went on Mr. Johson, observing Mrs. Jobson's puzzled "You are liable to railroad me across the eastern branch to the big government institution sooner or later, Mrs. Jobson, but I'm sane, all right. Here's what I mean: This is the beauteous spring season. Therefore it is the foolish season for fish. Fish bire in spring in the upper Potomac. Likewise, nature is now assuming her loveliest robes. I propose that we get a skiff to-morrow morning, row ten or 13 miles up the upper l'otomac, drink in the beauty of the unfolding leafage, and catch a barrel of fish. I'll do the rowing."

Mrs. Johson kept at her boniton lace work very industriously.

"Aren't you afraid there might be some danger in rowing now that you have grown so stout, and-" she began after a pause. "Oh, that's it," interrupted Mr. Job-

son. "You are of the opinion that in is my purpose to get you in a boat. pull her out to the middle of the river and scuttle her: or else you think that I don't k ow any more about rowing than I do of the Higher and Noblerone or the other. Mrs. Johson, I never won any diamond sculls for rowing. and I don't pretend that I can beat a Norfolk boat down to Old Point in an outrigger; but I can row, Mrs. Jolson-you don't want to let that fact get away from you: I can row, all right. And I can fish, too. And when you're throwing out jiles about people getting stont and puffy and things like that, permit me to remind you that the passing of the years is not leaving you exactly so sylph-like as you were when I came along and rescued you from single blessedness. may not be quite so Slim Jimmy and quick on my pins as I was a couple years ago, but if I can't pull the both of us up to where the falls begip on the upper Potomae, without taking a long breath, and then turn against the tide, you can present my name for membership in the Fat Men's club, that's all. Thus it came about that shortly after nine o'clock on Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Jobson, with a plethoric basket of lunch, appeared at the basketful of untouched lunch, the foot of one of the Georgetown streets, where Mr. Jobson rented lines and sinkers and bought eaough bait to fit out a Gloucester fishing smack for the Great Banks, and negotiated for a boat.

"I don't want any of your tubs," said Mr. Jobson to the boatman. "Gimme a shipshape looking craft. that's got some style about it-none of these here clumsy outfits that look like Dutch frigates in a gale o' wind." "Well. I've some nice outriggers." said the boatman, looking Mr. Johson over out of the tail of his eye. "out they're a bit hard to manage, if vou ain't used to 'em. and-" the right oar into the water as if it was an oyster tong, and fauned the air with the left. The boat careened to the right, and Mrs. Jobson emitted a little scream of alarm. Mr. Jobson glared at her. Then he dug the left oar into the water, as if it was trying to make a sounding at that particular spot, while he wielded the right our as if it were a cricket bat. The boat was listed to the left, and again Mrs. Jobson emitted a little scream of fear, holding on tight. Mr. Jobson glared at her some more, pulled out his handkerchief and mopped his face. and said deep things in his throat.

"Are, hey?" said Mr. Jobson. "Well. trice remains at the same old round 'f there's any one thing that I can | figure.

"This darned machine is out of order," said he. "or else you have put a job on me with the boatman. Mrs. Jobson. I suppose you came over here late last night and fixed it all up with him-arranged it so that we should both be dumped near the dock, and the boatman is to rescue you and let me go to the bottom. Then you collect my insurance money, pay your accessory in the crime, and-

"Hey, there!" yelled the boatman: 'eatch this hne, will you?"

Mr. Jobson caught the line the boatman threw him, and the outrigger was pulled back to the float.

'They're a hit hard to manage, as I told you," said the boatman. "Don't you think a plain skiff is what you want?"

Mr. Johson regarded the boatman and Mrs. Jobson savagely.

"What I want." he said, "is some kind of a boat that will go through the water-pot a machine that is purposely cranked up and fixed for the purpose of sending people who try to row it to a watery grave. If you've got that kind of a boat haul it out;

The boatman deposited Mr. and Mrs. Jobson in a safe-loking skiff of the flat-bottomed kind, handed Mr. Jobon the oars, and this time Mr. Jobson contrived to get the boat away from the float without catching more than half a dozen crabs. The tide was running out, and by the time Mr. Jobson had pulled the skiff half-way across the stream he began to pant and snort and puff like a small steam tug pulling an ocean steamship. The boat meanwhile was rapidly going down stream with the tide. Mr. Johson mopped his perspiring face and gazed coldly at Mrs. Jobson, who was hanging on to the gun'ls with a pale countenance.

"You just did this to humiliate me, didn't you, madam?" said Mr. Jobson, picking up the oars and pulling hard for the opposite shore, "It's just pie for you to bave your husband made to look cheap in the eyes of the riff-raff, isn't it?"

"I'm sure I don't know what you-" "Oh, no: you don't know anything about it." snorted Mr. Jobson. "You didn't rock that outrigger with your two hands so it wouldn't work as soon as I began to row in it, did you? And you didn't wink to that boatman to pick out the heaviest tub of a galleon that ever crawled through the water to make it appear that I was shy in rowing ability, did you?" "Mr. Johson, we'll go down to the Long bridge soon if you don't take the boat further up the stream," said Mrs. Jobson, noticing the rapid drift of the skiff downstream, "and then-" "Let 'er drift out to sea, madam," said Mr. Jobson, in a tone of deadly coldness: "it would serve you right have since enjoyed the best of health."

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Perma will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I aiways take a dose of Perma after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."

mal accumulation of effete matter which poisons and clogs the blood, and it becomes sour and acid.

This poison is carried through the general circulation to all parts of the body, and upon reaching the skin surface there is a redness and emption, and by certain peculiarities we recognize Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Erysipelas and many other skin troubles, more or less severe. While the skin is the seat of irritation, the real disease is in the blood. Medicated lotions and powders may allay the itching and burning, but never cure, no matter how long and faithfully continued, and the condition is often aggravated and skin permanently injured by their use.

The disease is more than skin deep; the entire circulation is poisoned.

The many preparations of arsenic, mercury, potash, etc., not only do not cure skin diseases, but soon ruin the digestion and break down the constitution.

S. S. S., nature's own remedy, made of roots, herbs and barks, of great purifying and tonical properties, quickly and effectually cures blood and skin troubles, because it goes direct to the root of the disease and stimulates and restores normal, healthy action to the different organs, cleanses and enriches the blood, and thus relieves the system of all poisonous secretions.

S. S. S. cures permanently because it leaves uone of the original poison to referment in the blood and cause a fresh attack.
